CROWDS OF PEOPLE PRESENT.

Trials of Speed at the Exposition-The Mimic Battle of the Crater. Scenes and Incidents Doings of To. Day.

There was a larger crowd at the Exposition yesterday than has attended on any previous day except the opening day. Among the crowds could be seen many strangers, and they expressed themselves as being perfectly satisfied with the fine

The exhibits were admired, the fakirs amused the visitors, the switchback was enjoyed by them, the cat show and acrobatic feats were applanded, the illusions were wondered at, the poultry show was carefully inspected, the races were yelled over, the bicycle rider in mid-air exclaimed over, and the Battle of the Crater crowned the zenith of happiness.

The races began at 2 o'clock and ended a few minutes after 6 o'clock. The results were as follows:

FIRST BACE.

Three-year-old class, purse $400, mile heats, three in five. First horse, $200; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25. There were nine entries and four starters, as follows: Miss Nelson, Samuel B. Nelson; Romola, A. H. Tyson; Zilla B., Acca Stock Farm, and Blondethe, W. P. Batchelor.

At Night.

The prophecy of a great night at the Exposition was realized last evening in a most satisfactory way. From 5 o'clock in the afternoon until the closing hour the large crowd swelled and surged through the main building, and it was estimated that ten or twelve thousand persons witnessed the last exhibition of the Battle of the Crater. The 7,500 scats were jammed, with a crowd all standing, and every available space inside the en-At Night.

and every available space inside the en-closure not marked off for the ma-nocuvres was occupied with an enthusi-astic crowd. Altogether, the day was the greatest success yet achieved by the Second Virginia State Exposition.

The Tournament. The tournament at the Exposition on next Tuesday is to be one of the best attractions yet offered. Fifty-six knights have entered, representing nearly all the counties in the State. As it is very difficult to handle a large number of knights, the chief marshal, Mr. John R. Martin, has closed the lists. He has been obliged to refuse about twenty who were desirous of entering. The who were desirous of entering. The parade will start from Eighth and Broad streets at 11:30 A. M. sharp and move down Broad to Twelfth, thence to Main, up Main to Fifth, thence to Franklin, and up Franklin to the Exposition Grounds. The riding will begin about 12:30 and continue till about 6. Those who will not reach the grounds Those who will not reach the grounds orly will see the most interesting and exciting part—that of "tying off."

JUSTICE JOHN'S COURT.

The Dispenser Was C ad Once Again in His Regulation Attire.

Justice John was dressed just like any other thoughtful and well-regulated judge yesterday morning, and there was no indication whatever of an attempt to be anything but the original dispenser of right, unhampered by the conventional garb of United States Supreme Court officials.

He was as smooth and diplomatic as the German drivers of the beer delivery wagons, who bedecked their vehicles yes-wagons, who bedecked their vehicles yesterday with Italian flags.

There was a departure in the attendance, a sort of Columbus day, as it were. A party of ladies from Grace street came on the scene like a glimpse of sunshine through a crack in the barn, or a stream of syrup from a leak in a barrel. Mr. J. Watson Phillips, who keeps a green grocery store on Grace street, was charged with maintaining a nuisance in the neighborhood, and the ladies were there to testify as to the unpleasant odors of his stock in trade.

was dismissed.

Mr. Thomas H. Joyner was charged with trespassing upon the premises of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Meyers. His wife testified that she could live no longer with Mr. Joyner, and had sought her mother's house, and was afraid of her husband. The "loving spouse" gave a beautiful imitation of injured innocence, which, however, in view of some other facts did not seem to touch the heart of Justice John. The case was dismissed.

George Robinson (colored) was fined 85 for threatening to kill Mary John-

John Murphy was sent ato jail for thirty days as a suspicious character.
